Description

1. Acceptance of Terms

- I confirm that I have read, understood, and accepted the Course Terms & Conditions as outlined by HEAL Software.
- I understand that my participation in this training is subject to compliance with all rules, policies, and procedures communicated before or during the program.

2. Confidentiality & Proprietary Information

- I acknowledge that the course material may include confidential, sensitive, and proprietary information belonging to HEAL Software, such as:
 - Product architecture, source code structure, backend design, APIs, database schemas, and configurations.
 - Operational workflows, system logic, algorithms, or client-related information.
 - Frontend design elements, visual interfaces, and user experience details.
- I understand that this information is provided solely for training and learning purposes and remains the exclusive intellectual property of HEAL Software.
- I shall not:
 - Copy, share, reproduce, or distribute any training material in any form.
 - Post or publish any content (including screenshots, videos, or documentation) on public or private platforms.
 - Reverse-engineer, modify, or attempt to extract any proprietary logic, data, or system components.
- However, learners are permitted to download and share only the official certificate issued upon successful completion of this course on public or professional platforms (such as LinkedIn), provided no internal material or screenshots are included.

3. Data Protection & Server Access

- I understand that temporary server or sandbox access may be granted for hands-on exercises.
- I agree to:
 - Use the access strictly for authorized training activities as instructed.
 - Not download, export, or store any data outside the designated environment.
 - Not introduce or use unauthorized scripts, software, or tools within the system.
- I acknowledge that all access is monitored and logged for security and compliance purposes.

4. Compliance & Ethical Conduct

- I shall adhere to the information security, privacy, and access control policies of both my organization and HEAL Software.
- I will ensure that all actions taken during the training align with ethical standards, data protection regulations, and non-disclosure requirements.

- I understand that any breach of confidentiality, unauthorized disclosure, or misuse of information may result in:
 - Immediate revocation of training access.
 - Disciplinary and/or legal action under applicable laws and company policies.

5. Intellectual Property Rights

- I acknowledge that all course content, materials, software, and supporting documentation are the sole property of HEAL Software.
- I agree not to claim ownership, authorship, or contribution to any intellectual property developed or shared during the training.
- I will not use any part of the training material to develop, replicate, or enhance any competing product or service.

6. Recording & Attendance

- I understand that live sessions may be recorded for internal use and training quality improvement.
- I consent to my participation being included in such recordings, provided they are not distributed externally without authorization.

7. Termination of Access

- HEAL Software reserves the right to suspend or terminate my access to training materials or systems at any time for non-compliance or security concerns.

8. Acknowledgement

By proceeding, I confirm that:

- I have voluntarily agreed to participate in this training.
- I understand and accept all the above terms and obligations.
- I am aware that violation of these terms may lead to disciplinary, contractual, or legal consequences.
